

3 Dinner Parties Given Thursday

Dinner parties were given Thursday by German Ambassador and Mme. Krekeler, Mr. and Mrs. J. Noel Macy and Mrs. Thompson Montgomery.

The German envoy and lovely Mme. Krekeler were hosts at a formal dinner at the embassy residence.

The guests of honor were United States Ambassador-designate to Yugoslavia and Mrs. Riddleberger, who will leave soon for his new post.

Mr. Riddleberger is the former chief of German affairs in the Department of State. While he was in that capacity, he and Ambassador Krekeler became good friends.

Another dinner for the Riddlebergers, who sail aboard the liner Constitution on Oct. 23, will be given by Yugoslav Ambassador and Mme. Popovic on Oct. 21. Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Lewis of the State department also plan to entertain for Envoy and Mrs. Riddleberger.

Mrs. Thompson Montgomery entertained at her home on McGill terrace in honor of W. E. Thomas Buchanan Jr., new United States minister to Luxembourg, and Mrs. Buchanan.

Costa Rican Ambassador and Senora de Oreamuno were guests, as were Postmaster General and Mrs. Summerfield, Mr. and Mrs. William P. MacCracken, Mrs. Kathryn Burger of New York City, who is visiting Mrs. Buchanan; John A. Logan and Carleton Holdrege.

Mrs. Montgomery also plans a 6 to 8 p.m. reception on Oct. 24 at her home in honor of Chief of Naval Operations and Mrs. Carney.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Noel Macy's dinner at their Georgetown home was in honor of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Pierpont Morgan Hamilton of California. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Mason, Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. John Begg, personal friends of the honorees.
